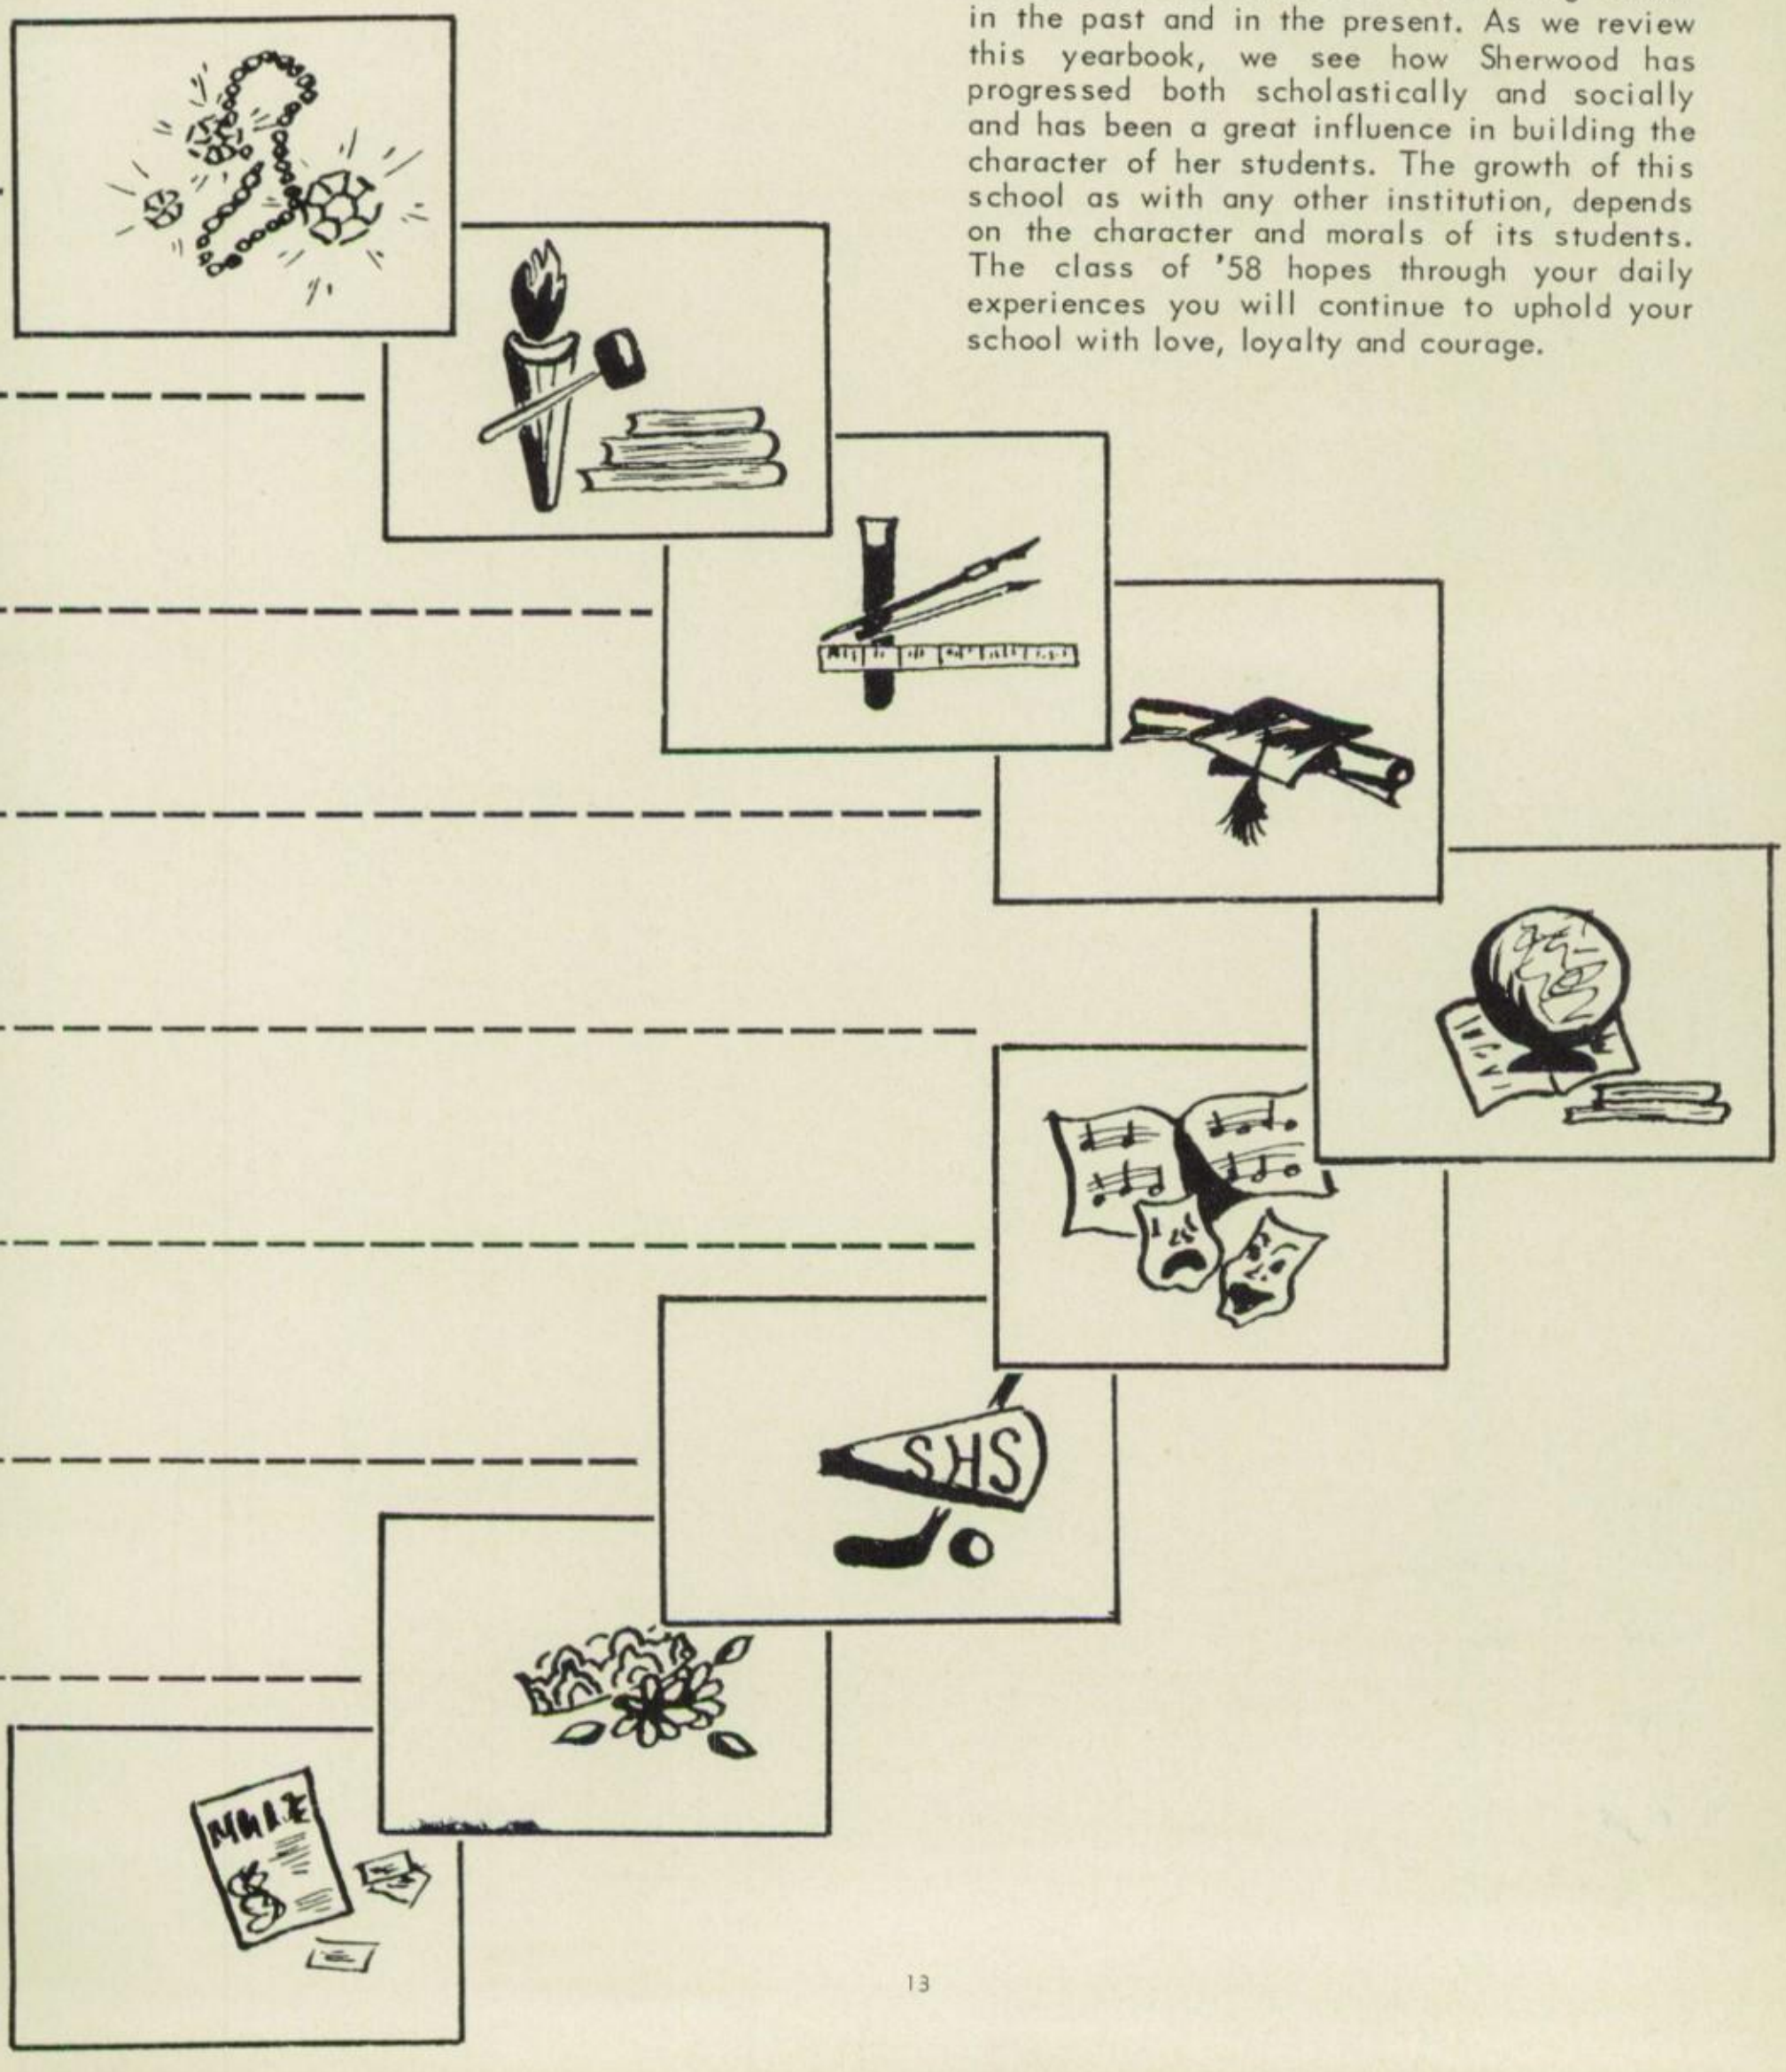
FORWARD

The 1958 LEAVES pays tribute to those who have made Sherwood an outstanding school in the past and in the present. As we review this yearbook, we see how Sherwood has progressed both scholastically and socially and has been a great influence in building the character of her students. The growth of this school as with any other institution, depends on the character and morals of its students. The class of '58 hopes through your daily experiences you will continue to uphold your school with love, loyalty and courage.



DEDICATION

The Leaves of 1958 is dedicated with honor and gratitude to a very warm, friendly and sincere person, Mr. Sydney T. Lawler.

Of the many people who have paved Sherwood High School's road of progress, Mr. Lawler is one of the most outstanding. Since 1935, he has been known throughout our school and community as one devoted to the education of youth.

As principal of Sherwood from 1943 until 1948, he did much to benefit our school and her students.

Mr. Lawler is a man of many achievements. While principal he helped to organize the Sherwood Chapter of the National Honor Society. He formed many new clubs in the fields of science and agriculture.

Today Mr. Lawler heads the Science department of Sherwood. He is also active as a sponsor of the Science club.

Sherwood is greatly indebted to this man, who has, for so many years, served her. His endeavoring to further education and progress for Sherwood will always be remembered.

The staff of the 1958 Leaves of Sherwood High School takes this opportunity to express its appreciation for the time and effort devoted to this publication by Mrs. Frances W. Johnson. Although new to the faculty this year, she has accepted the responsibilities of both a Senior Class sponsor and Annual advisor.

ADMINISTRATION

SHERWOOD HIGH SCHOOL
SANDY SPRING, MARYLAND

OFFICE OF THE PRINCIPAL

SPring 4-245

To the Students of Sherwood High School:

Progress brings to mind the thought of advancement, growth, development and continuous improvement which have been characteristic of Sherwood High School. This tradition of progress which has helped to form Sherwood into the exceptional school we know today was begun many years ago. The initial step was taken when the first Sherwood School was opened by the Society of Friends in 1884. By 1906, twenty-two years later, Sherwood had become the first public high school in Sandy Spring. From a small school with four teachers serving a student body of one hundred and nine pupils, we have grown to a student body of one thousand one hundred and eighty pupils with a faculty of fifty-eight today. A large, modern, well-equipped brick building has replaced the small frame school house of the past, and we can see additional progress in the immediate future with the further growth of our faculty and the addition of a new gymnasium and athletic field. Our appreciation goes to all those who through the years have shared in Sherwood's development, for without their sincere interest and hard work our fine school of today could not be.

Though the physical growth of our school has been impressive, physical growth alone is not a measure of Sherwood's true progress. It is only in you, the students, that we can find the actual measure. In developing your individual talents and abilities to the fullest, you have not only shared in the tradition of personal achievement of those who have gone before you, but you have also helped to advance that tradition and make Sherwood a better school for those who will come after you.

To you, our seniors who are now graduating, our greatest wish is that you may translate the ideals of our school into personal achievement and future success. In your progress in future years, as in the past, Sherwood will continue to take pride; and as you become effective members of our democratic society, you will continue to be the measure of Sherwood's true progress.

Sincerely,

William W. Miles

Mr. Dunn

VICE PRINCIPALS

We wish to express our gratitude to Mr. Dunn and Mr. Lugar for their services on our behalf. Their generous assistance to the students has been greatly appreciated.

SUPERVISOR

Dr. Nichols

As General Supervisor Dr. Nichols' duties are many. Assisting the school in curricula development and in coordination of the school program has only been part of his work. By helping teachers keep up with changing educational methods and new techniques, he has promoted the faculty's professional growth and has aided them in better performing their important job. Dr. Nichols has been a valuable guide in Sherwood's progress.

An efficient office is the heart of an efficient school. Sherwood is indeed fortunate in having Mrs. Bryan and Miss Cashell who keep the behind-the-scenes processes running smoothly.

Miss Cashell

Mrs. Bryan

SERVICES

It's often been said that a school is more than just classrooms, and that's certainly true at Sherwood. The extra services found at a school, and the people who go out of their way to provide them, give that school a distinct personality.

OF SHERWOOD HIGH

Students are always proud to identify themselves with a school that possesses a fresh and vibrant personality. The extra services at Sherwood that contribute to its special personality are radio station WSHS which provides fine music programs, the patriotic boys who keep our flags flying, and the industrious people who run our school bank, library, and store.

CUSTODIANS

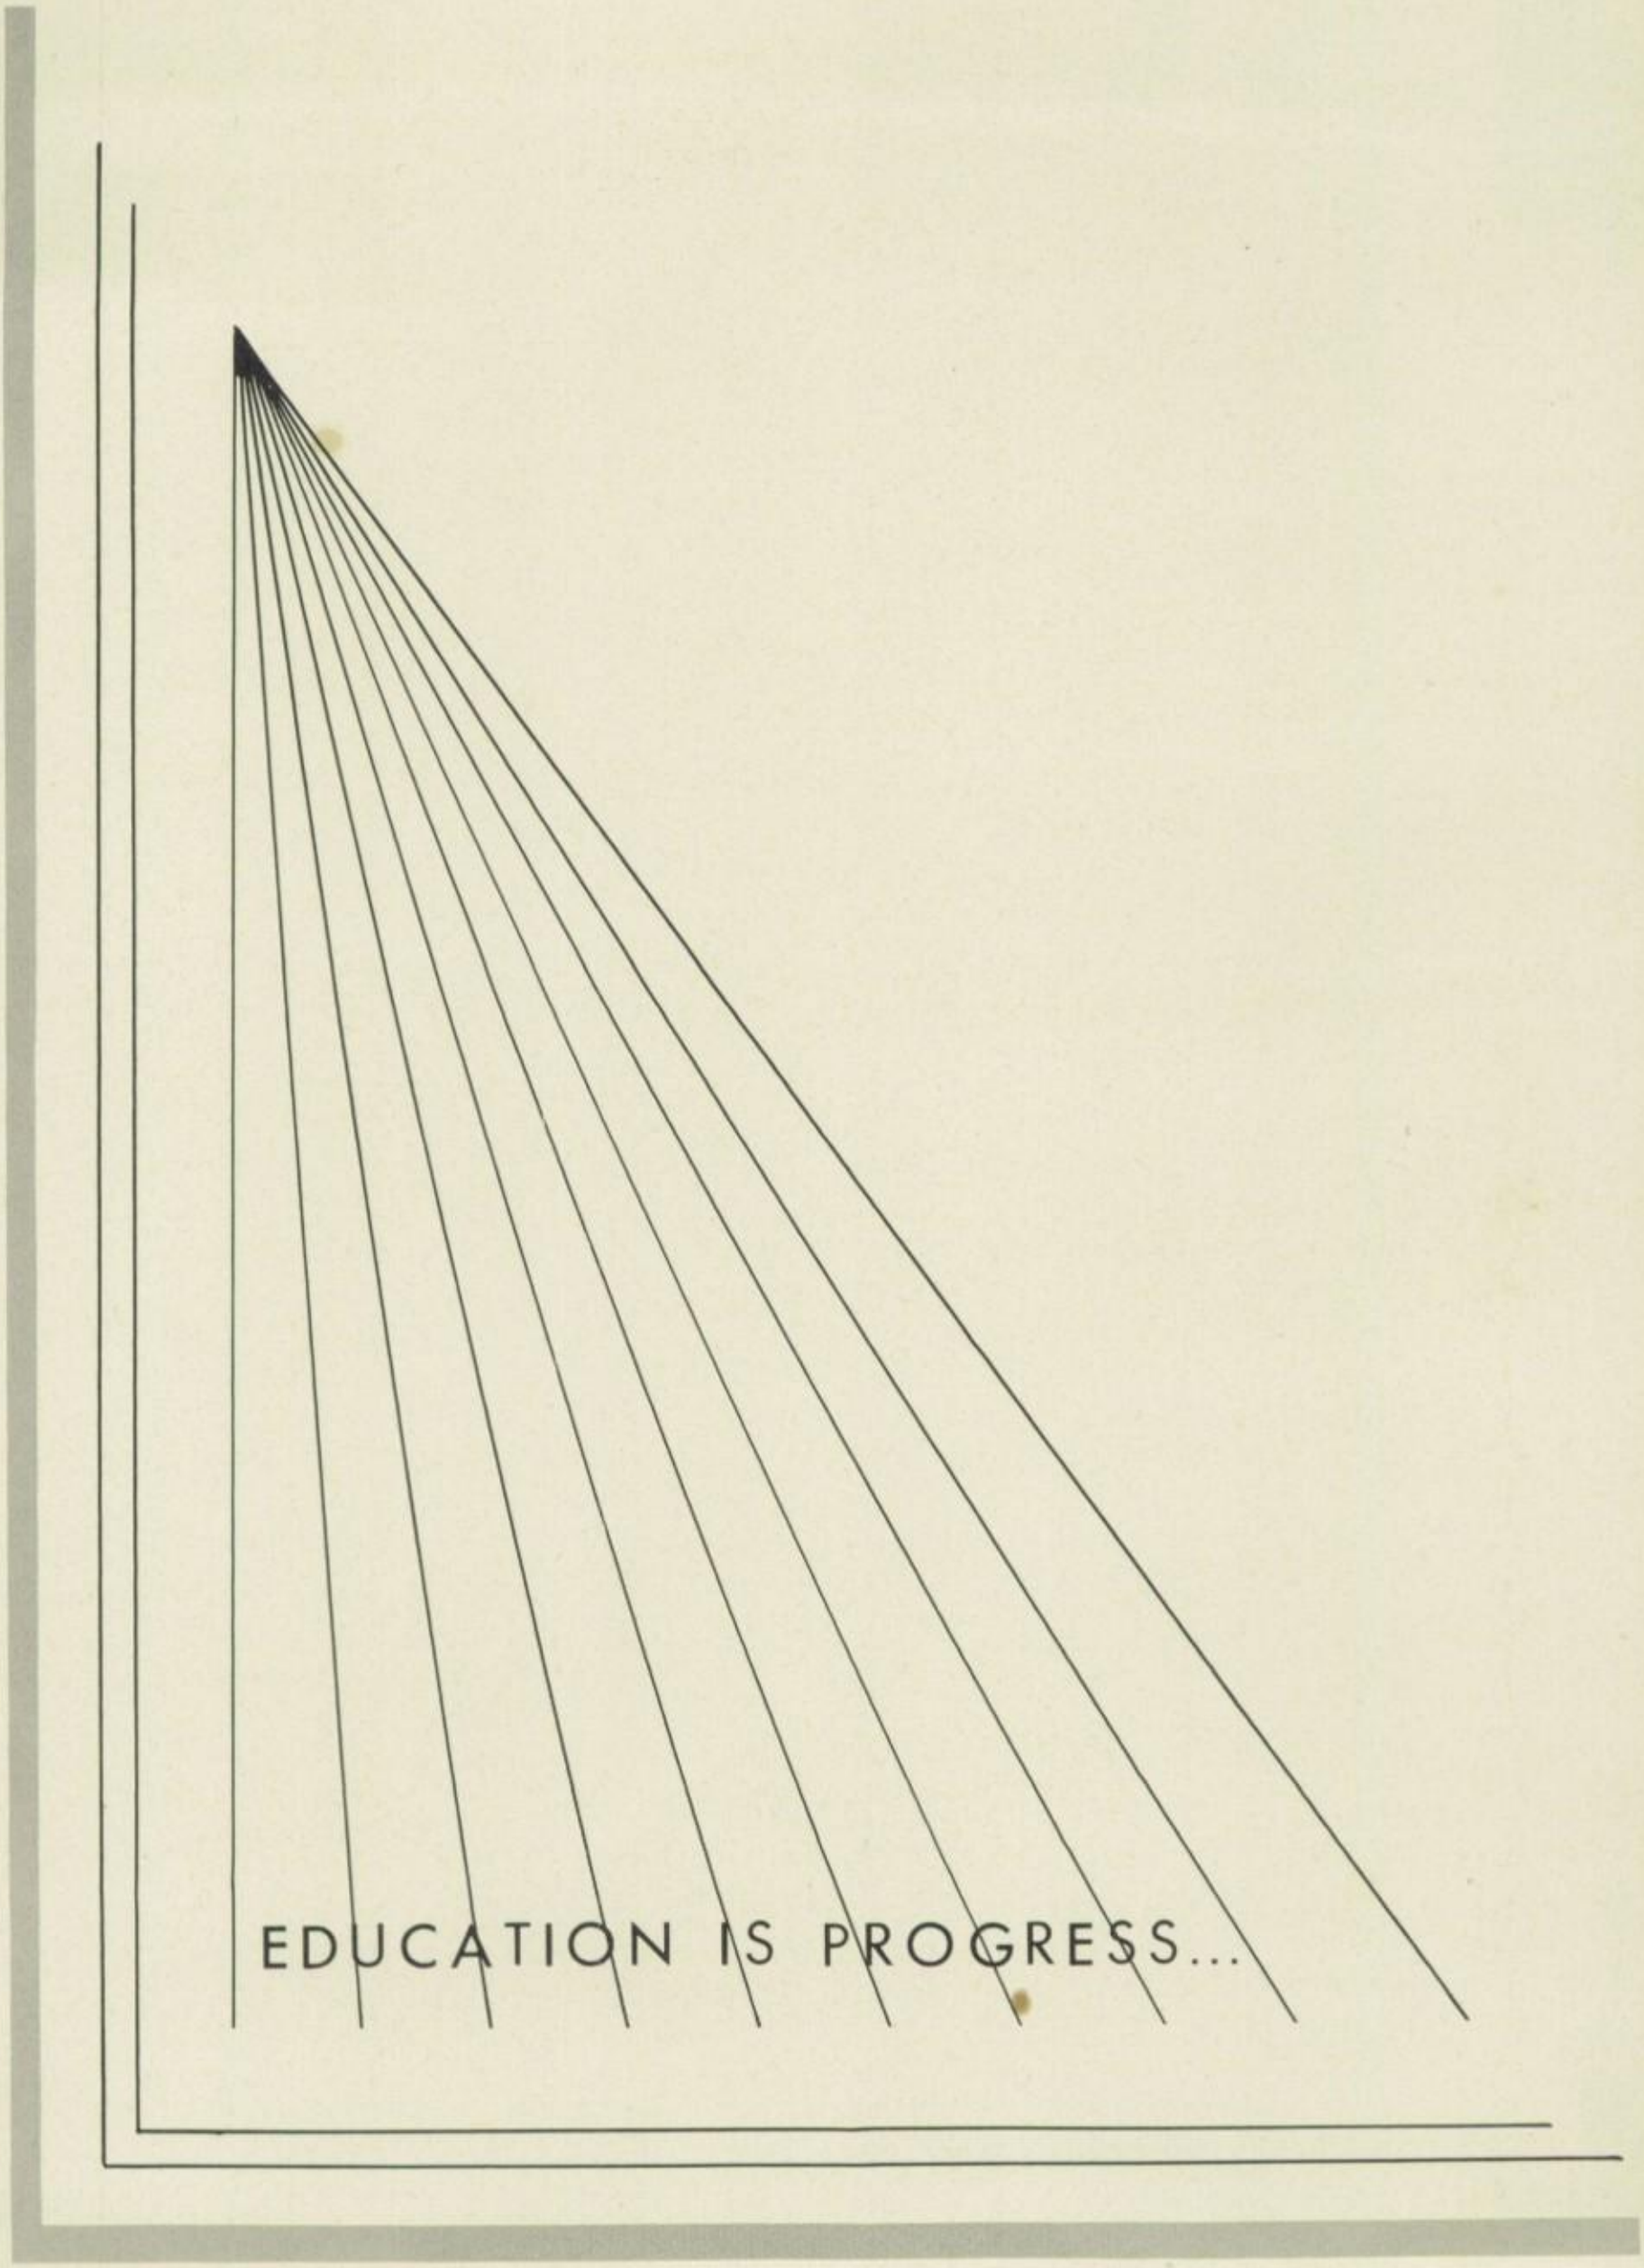
Keeping a school the size of Sherwood in tip-top shape is no small task, but our custodians are equal to the job. Sherwood's neat and shiny hall are testimony to a job well done.

BUS DRIVERS

The majority of Sherwood students are taken to and from school by our most competent bus drivers. We consider them as an important part of our daily life at school and would like to express our gratitude for the fine, safe service they have again given us.

CAFETERIA STAFF

To please ravenous Sherwoodites, our experts in the kitchen prepare a great variety of tantalizing menus. From crisp, colorful salads to succulent turkey dinners, scrumptious cream pies and fluffy cakes, the array is as appealing to the eye as it is satisfying to the appetite.



EDUCATION IS PROGRESS...

Mr. Porter and Mrs. Fitzgerald

OUR COUNSELORS

One of Sherwood High School's greatest assets is its fine guidance department which this year has expanded its facilities by establishing a College Information Center and has added a group of student assistants to its staff. Many personal as well as academic problems have been solved with the assistance of our excellent counselors, Mrs. Fitzgerald and Mr. Porter who aid us in guidance, placement, analysis and counseling.

As guidance deals with intangibles we may not measure the worth of our counselors until, someday in the future, we realize that the choice of a college or job was the right one due to their friendly advice and help.

Mr. Gartlan, Miss Banachowski, Mrs. White

JUNIOR HIGH SOCIAL STUDIES

Designed to provide the Junior High student with an awareness of the fact that America is more than just Montgomery County, this program gives him a better understanding of our country. Interesting as well as informative, the Social Studies program provides the student with the background needed for Senior High work.

SENIOR HIGH ENGLISH

Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Lechliter, Mrs. Strasser, Miss Edwards

Progressing beyond the narrow confines of English grammar, the Senior High English course introduces the student to the world of literature and advanced composition. Gaining an appreciation of our language and literature and acquiring a greater proficiency in its written use are major objectives of this department.

Mrs. Broadway, Mr. Aiken, Mr. Wrona

SENIOR HIGH SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

Continuing on the foundation established in the junior high years, the senior high Social Studies Department offers the students more extensive and intensive work in the social studies field. Electives such as Political and Economic Geography, World History, and Psychology are available for those students who wish to pursue special interests.

JUNIOR HIGH ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

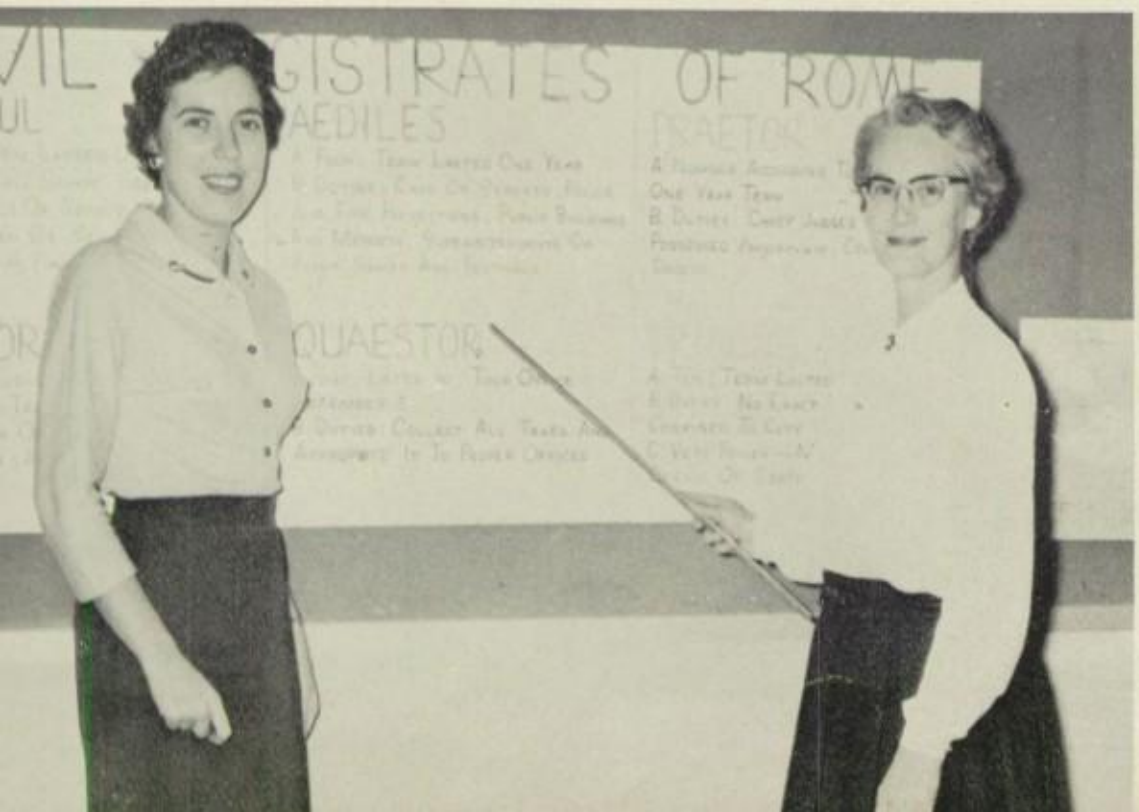
Mr. Andrews, Mrs. Beck, Mr. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Mohn, Miss Black

Instructing the junior high student in intermediate grammar and literature appreciation, the junior high English Department provides a broad background for work in senior high English. The technical skills such as punctuation, grammar, and sentence structure are emphasized so that students may be prepared for the varied written work of senior high courses. In addition, creative and expository writing are encouraged in order that all students may develop their creative abilities as well as their ability for self expression.

The value of knowing a foreign language in our shrinking world has accented the need for a more extensive language program. In keeping up with modern trends in education, Sherwood meets this need by providing two years of French and four years of Latin. Not only does this serve to fulfill college requirements, but in advanced courses it also develops the student's appreciation for the literature of those areas.

DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Miss Cotten, Mrs. Goodwin



For the first time in many years, Latin III and Latin IV are again being offered at Sherwood. While this course acquaints the advanced student with some of the greatest authors of antiquity, it also provides a richer background for both English and the Romance Languages.

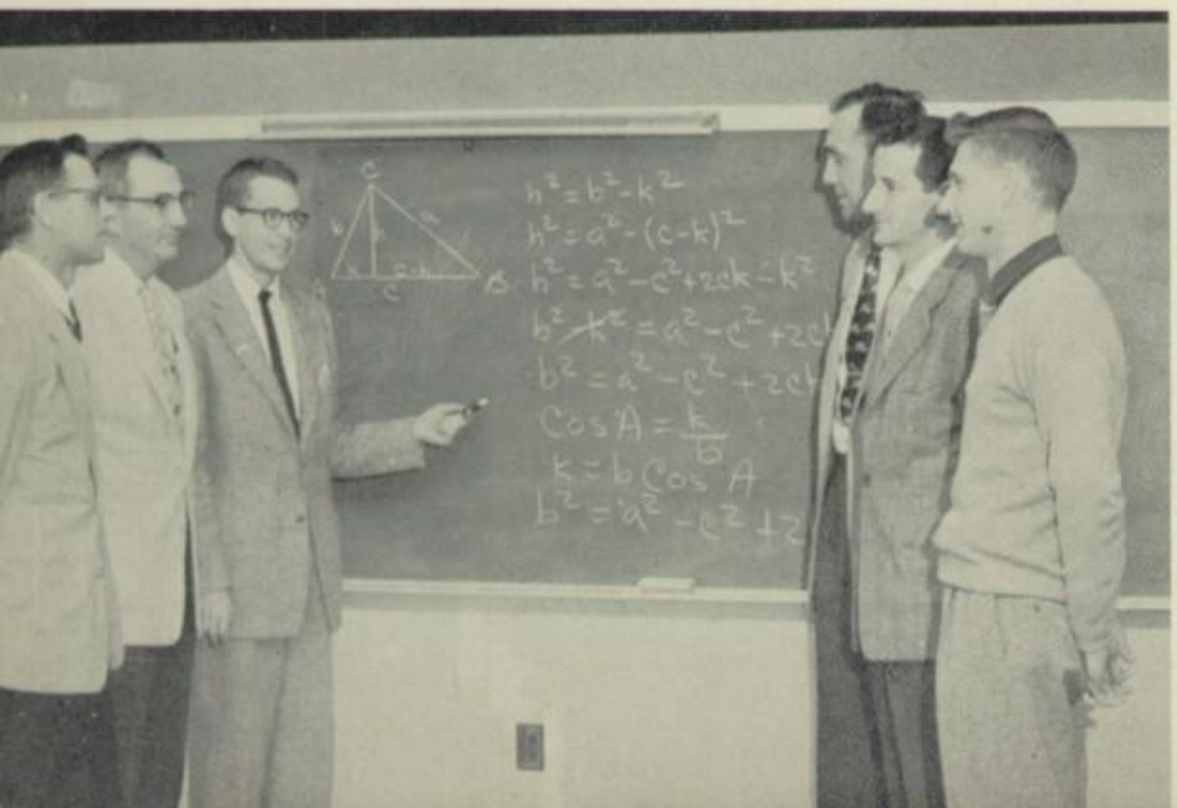
Mr. Lawler, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Diamond

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Acknowledging the great demand for scientists, Sherwood's Science Department has expanded. The addition of a solarium this year opens new areas for experimentation to biology students. An advanced course in both chemistry and biology is being offered this year to supplement the standard biology, chemistry, physics, and general science courses. Sherwood is thus helping to meet our nation's need for future scientists.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

Mr. Grzeszkiewicz, Mr. Cooper, Mr. Finney, Mr. Zimmerman, Mr. Burk, Mr. Smith



In today's world of discovery and development, it is important that more and more people have a good working knowledge of mathematics. Our competent teachers provide us with the best possible instruction in this vital area. Progress through mathematics is their motto.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

For those desiring to enter the business world immediately following graduation, the Commercial Department offers the means of obtaining the essential qualifications, including actual office practice.

Mrs. Fitez, Miss Pardue, Mr. Knott

Having acquired a complete background in English, bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, and math, Sherwood's commercial students are eligible for positions in rhe vocation of their choice.

Mrs. Pike, Mr. Conner, Miss Palmer, Mrs. Gillis

INDEPENDENTS

Though independent of other educational departments, this group is nevertheless an important part of the school. Mrs. Pike and her library staff are invaluable to us at term paper time, while Mrs. Henderson who cares for our ill students is always of great help. Mrs. Palmer strives to improve the reading habits of Sherwoodites as Mr. Conner works to improve our driving habits.

DRIVER EDUCATION

Educating teen-agers to become safe automobile drivers is the ultimate goal of the Driver Education Program at Sherwood. Under the excellent instruction of Mr. Conner, students perfect good driving techniques, familarize themselves with Maryland's motor vehicle laws and are trained for greater traffic safety while "behind the wheel".

Miss Lynch, Mr. Laakko, Miss Austin

DEPARTMENTS OF ART AND MUSIC

The sight of a beautiful painting or the sound of lovely music does much to make dark days brighter. Those who have artistic talents or musical ability receive worthwhile instruction and encouragement at Sherwood. Special poster contests and musical assemblies held throughout the year promote enthusiasm and encourage active participation by everyone.

HOME ARTS DEPARTMENT

Just think of all the domestic trouble that could be prevented if every homemaker were an expert in her field. The Home Arts courses provide instruction in the practical skills of cooking and sewing. Every year a fashion show is given featuring the clothing made by the students during their Home Arts classes.

Mrs. Sowder, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Smeltz

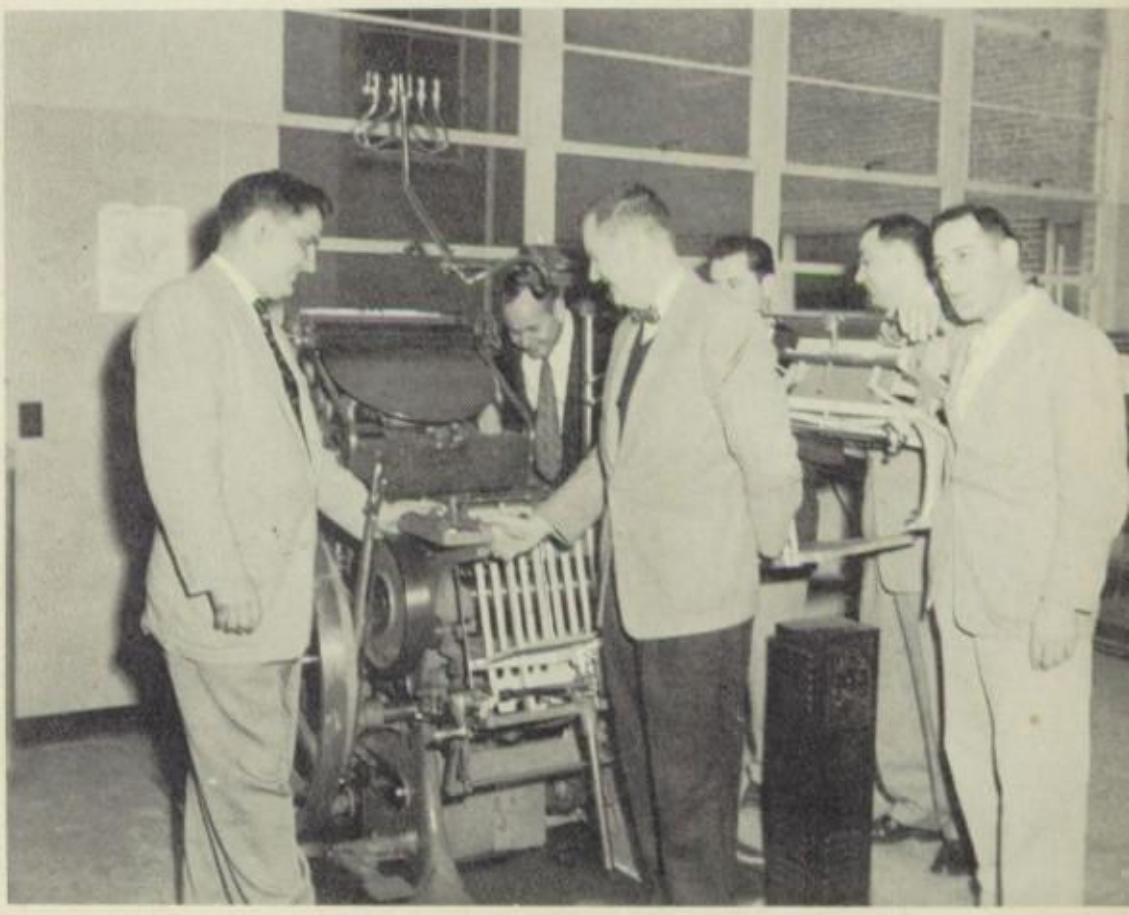
PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Mr. Auriti, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Mersky, Mr. Caruso, Mr. Huffer

Not too long ago the Physical Education department consisted of two people who had to be jacks-of-all-trades. Those days are now gone forever, and today Sherwood has a well-trained and much larger physical education staff of experts who are able to devote their full time to the interests of physical fitness for our students.

MECHANICAL DRAWING DEPARTMENT--
Tomorrow's draftsmen learn the rudiments of their trade through the instruction of the Mechanical Drawing Department. This instruction is supplemented by actual job practice on blue-prints for school use.

Mr. Daniero, Instructor



INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT--
Our Industrial Education Department serves two purposes. It acquaints the student with skills from which he may develop an interesting hobby, and it provides specialized instruction for those who have definitely decided to enter a specific vocational field after graduation. This large department performs a much-needed service for the school.

Mr. Rice, Mr. Bland, Mr. Bassett, Mr. Lynam, Mr. Daniero, Mr. Azhderian

AUTO MECHANICS DEPARTMENT--
Specifically designed to help our mechanically inclined boys, the Auto Mechanics Department offers facilities and instruction to those students planning to enter this vocation after graduation. By working on their own cars and those of others, the students explore every facet of the modern automobile.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

High School! How exciting the whole idea seemed when we entered the 7th grade. In that "year of wonder" so many things were new. How confused we got during the first few days of class changes, and how tall the upperclassmen looked!

New horizons opened to us in geography and Girls' Shop. What an experience it was to work on woods and metals. We were so proud (then) of the jewel boxes and magazine racks we made.

Our tour of Montgomery County supplemented our core course study. The ice cream at White's Ferry is a vivid memory.

Curly Randolph, with harmonica and guitar, was our class president, and Edmond Russell was our vice president. Together we planned several lunch box socials, and hopes ran high as Bill Slade's gavel opened the bidding on each lunch.

A little more poised and a little more sure of ourselves, a new September found us in the 8th grade.

Our trip to Gettysburg helped to confirm the feeling that we were truly 8th graders. The noise of guns, cannons, and charging troops couldn't have equaled the noise of our two bus loads descending on the town.

The fall of the year found the girls of our class trying out for Junior high Cheerleaders, who would be going into action in late November. Two of our classmates were elected to the team to help to lead our cheers for the junior high basketball games.

Many girls had a chance to take home economics for the first time, and many of the boys continued their woodworking, carpentry, and metal work through the year.

The 8th grade "Shamrock Shenanegans" saw our first king and queen crowned. Doris Becraft and Gerald Bailey shared the honors and ruled over our biggest affair that year.

The end of the year was marked by the swimming party held at Kramer's Swimming Pool. The shrieks of the boys dunking the girls was enough to make our ears ring until our senior year.

Our entrance into ninth grade made the September of 1953 a particularly memorable one. The excitement of the new year was with us, and we were full of anticipation as we greeted old friends in the familiar halls. The courses we had selected from the listing at the end of the eighth grade suddenly became a reality, and before we knew it we were pursuing everything from auto shop and home arts to algebra I and French I and Latin I.

The new freedom was startling, but we elected our officers and went on with the business of making this one of our most memorable years. Nancy Snyder was president, Frank Donaldson was Vice President, Allyne Hayden was secretary, and Barbara Laughlin was treasurer. We planned the Blossom Time Ball and in keeping with the theme of spring, the gym blossomed like a spring garden.

The Choristers was formed this year, and many of our class members joined this group. A knitting club was organized, and some members of our class also worked on the staff of the literary magazine "The Twig."

This June our class held the last graduation given for a ninth grade class. Dressed in our ninth grade best, we crossed the stage to receive a diploma which marked the end of junior high and our real entrance into senior high.

The first official year of senior high school found us trying new wings in more advanced classes. Many of us found the course of study we wanted to make our life's career then, and we began to feel we truly belonged in senior high.

We met William Shakespeare through his tragedy, Julius Ceasar, and some of us came to the conclusion that Silas Marner should have been classified a tragedy.

Biology was an adventure into a world of frogs and microscopic plants. Remember that riotous trip to the Smithsonian Institute?

The future secretaries got their first close look at a typewriter while some of our boys became intrigued with the workings of that remarkable machine, the automobile. Other male members of the class helped the varsity teams make the season successful.

We seemed to grow closer together as a class this year, and this may have been the cause of the unusual success we enjoyed in so many of our projects. Our class officers were Martha Aiken, president; Bill Mohri, vice president; Audrey Johnson, secretary, Doris Becraft, treasurer. The Sherwood Swing was the first of our successful dances, and the May Dance was our first big formal event. We felt so glamourous in our formal clothes . . and really we'd never realized what a good looking class we had.

Another September heard the shouts of Jolly Juniors resounding through the halls of Sherwood But itdidn't takeus long to get down to the business of making this our most successful year so far. We held our class elections early in fall; Mike Witherspoon was elected president; Nancy Snyder was vice president; Phyllis Oursler was secretary; and Joann Cissel was treasurer. With this behind us we commenced to set records and establish precidents.

One of our most important events was waiting for our Senior Class rings. Ever since December when we first measured for them, we waited with great anticipation for their arrival in May. We were both proud and eager to flash them around to prove that we were well on our way to our Senior year. Another of our most important precidents was the introduction of the Junior class play, "Slice It Thin" which was given in February. Not only was our play a box office success but this money helped to make our Junior-Senior Prom as big a success. The beautiful setting of the "Crystal Room" with its multicolored lights and mirrors added the perfect touch for the announcing of "Mr. and Miss Sherwood of 1957". All the parents who attended the dance agreed with us that it was one of the loveliest events our class had ever had.

At last we had reached the top! At last we were Seniors! To mark the event we wore our senior sweaters, and entered into the whirl of our last year in high school.

This was the year of decision. Many students selected their courses this year with a new seriousness, and an eye toward an approaching career. Others read college catalogues and wondered what decision would be the best. College Board exams were taken and Civil Service exams were given, and everyone waited expectantly for the results. While some seniors were tearing their hair out over the senior term papers, others worked on art and science fair projects.

Some of the largest blizzards in the state's history marked this senior year and marred many of our plans. The turkey of our senior supper almost went uneaten when the 14 inches of snow all but marooned us in the cafeteria. Having just dug out from under that blizzard, we found it was time for our senior play. "Arsenic and Old Lace", too, became a victim of the snows, and the performance had to be postponed a week. Because of all of the time lost we became the first class to take it's senior trip on school time, which perhaps made it seem like even more fun.

The Christmas ball in the winter was one of the two major dances. The decorations of the Christmas ball were beautiful, and our Christmas couple ruled from a golden sleigh. The Junior Senior Prom was as beautiful as the Christmas ball, and it was the wonderful end to a wonderful year.

Graduation has now come! For a moment we find ourselves looking backward rather than forward. Four of the most wonderful years of our lives have passed, and we now have memories . . all the memories of the wonderful, busy, frantic years in high school.

JUNIORS

CLASS OFFICERS

Ralph Purcell, President; Carolyn Potter, Treasurer; Chandlee Lewis, Student Council Representative; Derek White, Vice President; Linda Hurst, Secretary; Carole Callahan, Student Council Representative.

Continuing the traditional Junior Class Play, the Class of '59 presented the enjoyable comedy "Quit Your Kidding." In February many of the Juniors helped at the Senior supper, and in March they gave a successful record hop the "Spring Swing". This dance featured the well known ex-Sherwoodite, Vernon Taylor, who has made famous many of the top tunes that are sweeping the country. The Annual Junior-Senior Prom held at the Indian Spring Country Club, Highlighted this class's gala events.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomores have been busy this year. While planning for the traditional May Dance, they worked hard on their various money-making projects. One of the most successful projects was the "Basketball Bounce." In addition, the Sophomores can also be given credit for successful bake sales in November and in April.

The Sophomore Class has demonstrated a great deal of spirit this year, and their participation in activities indicates the exceptional spirit of the Class of 1960.

EIGHTH GRADE

CLASS OFFICERS

Dianne Deao, Vice-President; June Dustin, Student Council Representative; Carolyn Birely, President; Dave Smith, Secretary; Martha Witherspoon, Student Council Representative.

The members of the Class of '62 have livened up many games and activities this year with their unmatchable school spirit. They boast the Didactic, an exclusive eighth grade newspaper. After sponsoring the "Turkey Strut", this energetic class gave the annual 7th and 8th Grade Party and sponsored other parties which featured 8th Grade talent.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Educating its members in the form and procedures of government, our Student Council is a vital part of school life. Consisting of two elected representatives and two alternate representatives from each grade, the Student Council is able to operate quite efficiently. Two newly formed branches of the Council, the Coordinating Council and Homeroom Chairmen's Assembly were provided for in this year's new constitution.

The new branches are made up of all organization presidents and homeroom chairmen. The Coordinating Council and Homeroom chairmen's Assembly, respectively, are the two subordinate bodies of the Student Council. Their function is to promote cooperation among the clubs and classes, settle problems affecting them, and refer their suggestions to the Student Council on an advisory level.

Our Student Council has undertaken many worthwhile projects this year. The members collected money and bought food and clothing for a needy family during Christmas. In February, Sherwoodites witnessed the Heart Fund Drive, sponsored by the Council. The first dance for this purpose was given, called the "Heart Throb"; the highlight of the evening was the crowning of Bill Bassin, the first "King of Hearts." Besides the many interesting "special" programs, the Council sponsored the greatest event of the year, The Student Council Fair. Every club and class participated, displaying Sherwood's great spirit, cooperation, and efficiency.

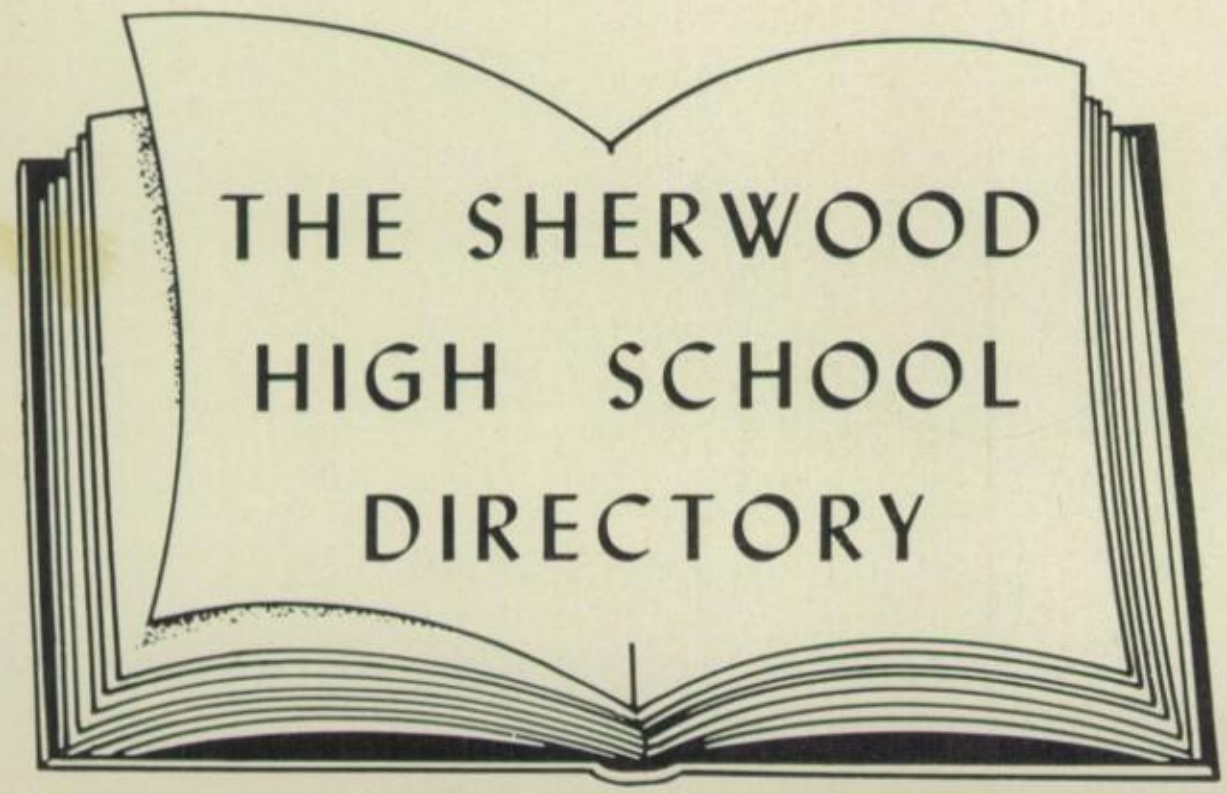
KEY CLUB

A recent result of the Key Club's efforts was Sherwood's first Student Directory.



The Key Club has greatly increased its reputation as a school and community service organization.

Known for its many worthwhile projects, especially the Charles B. Remaley Memorial Library, the club also supplied free schedules and programs for athletic events.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Inducted into the Sherwood Chapter of the National Honor Society are the Juniors and Seniors who are outstanding in Leadership, Scholarship, Character, and Service. The Society met bimonthly this year, and a Handbook of Youth Organizations in our community was compiled.

WEATHERBIRD CLUB

The Weather Birds have now become affiliated with the Science Clubs of America. Under the guidance of Mr. Winters, they are making plans for a weather station at Sherwood in the near future. To this end, they have already purchased much scientific equipment.

AUDIO-VISUAL AIDES

The Audio-Visual Aides Club is one of Sherwood's most active organizations. Its members take care of the school's movies, lighting, and sound equipment. During the year the A.V.A. shows current feature movies to raise money for new equipment.

This group of inquisitive students is Sherwood's contingent of panelists on the NBC-TV network "Youth Wants To Know." Our school, despite its size, has the largest number of students regularly appearing on this program than any other school in the metropolitan area. These people have interviewed diplomats, labor leaders, government officials, and scientists of national and international prominence.

YOUTH WANTS TO KNOW

GIRLS' AND BOYS' STATE

Mike Witherspoon; Audrey Johnson; Bob Stabler

The Boys' and Girls' State program, sponsored by the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary, is a practical application of government and good citizenship.

Encouraging citizenship and love of God and country, these programs afford the opportunity for students to live and work together as self-governing citizens.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON CITIZENSHIP

Four of Sherwood's seniors, Martha Aiken, Anne Coleman, Penny Martin, and Barbara Wendler attended the "National Conference On Citizenship" held at the Statler Hotel. There they met with representatives from different states to consider citizenship rights and responsibilities, discuss national problems and obtain helpful citizenship ideas for our nation.

VOICE OF DEMOCRACY

Caroline Mitchell was Sherwood's 1957 Voice of Democracy contest winner. This contest enables students to express their views on Democracy, and rewards them at school, regional, state, and national levels.

BARK

THE BARK

This year the Sherwood Bark has taken great strides and has become a paper with interests for every student. In addition to a complimentary issue, many new features have been added.

The journalism class carries the full responsibility for the paper, and under the sponsorship of Mr. Wrona, Jim Holland, Editor-in-Chief, and his staff have guided this year's Bark to a state rating of second place in its division. It also ranked third in the Tuberculosis contest.

The Bark is now enrolled in two honor societies--the Quill and Scroll and Columbia Scholastic.

SCHOOL SERVICE

Excused three minutes before the end of every class to take their positions before the crowd descends, the School Service maintains order and safety in the corridors. Their own court has the responsibility of meting out punishment to offenders.

The Sherwood Band deserves acclaim for its precision formations during half time.

Recognition was given for our band's fine work when local civic clubs donated new uniforms and hats for the band members.

MAJORETTES

The Robin Hoods, our strutting majorettes, appeared with the band on all occasions, contributing greatly to the recognition given to Sherwood. The members are: First row: L. Hurst; A. Johnston, assistant captain; B. Wendler, captain; B. Bryan. Second row: S. Prichard; S. Robertson. Third row: M. Walker; J. Tracy, alternates.

Designed by senior Barbara Yakimchick, this meaningful seal was adopted in March 1958.

The clasped hands symbolize friendships, while the Nottingham shield is symbolic of Sherwood Forest, England. The oak leaves and acorn carry out the theme and the leaves also symbolize what every Sherwoodite knows, the opening lines of the school song, "Among the Leafy Branches of slender forest trees, We see the dear old schoolhouse." The book denotes learning, of course, upon which lies the Tridephia Bell, which is seen today in a memorial at the front of the school.

Sherwood's new seal will hold a place of honor throughout the years to come as it is used to symbolize S.H.S. on stationery, school rings, awards and diplomas.

This season saw Sherwood face such teams as Walter Johnson, Northwood, Gaithersburg, and Rockville. The spectators saw ability, aggresiveness, determination, and good sportsmanship displayed by the varsity at every game. Laurel, Damascus, Poolesville, and the Alumni saw defeat as they faced the varsity, expertly coached by Mr. Burk. With this background and spirit, and since only two members of the basketball squad will graduate, we see great promise in in next year's season.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

Donald Luthur - captain
Mr. Huffer - coach

Although hindered by lacking height, the Junior Varsity demonstrated ability and strength, under the able coaching of Mr. Huffer. This year they defeated our chief rival, Gaithersburg, and displayed great potential for our future varsity.

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL

Winning six games, this year's Junior High team showed great promise for future teams at Sherwood. With the coaching of Mr. Connor they defeated Clarksville, Damascus, Gaithersburg, and Poolesville.

Mr. Connor - coach
Eugene Harris - captain

First row: Mr. Connor, Billy Rabbitt, Jeff Pries, Toni Smith. Standing: Johnny Howes (manager), Charles Mabee, Harvey Mahan, Bill Hogen, Eugene Harris, Bill Kruse.

TRACK AND BASEBALL

Since baseball and track are Spring sports the Annual went to press before they played their first games. However, with the coaching of Mr. Caruso, Mr. Huffer, and Mr. Connor, and with the ability and spirit of the team members displayed in practice, the 1958 season for both sports promises to be a good one.

MAY QUEEN CANDIDATES

Reigning over her court of elected Duchesses, the May Queen represents the spirit of the festivities at Sherwood's annual May Dance. Chosen by the Senior High students as the fairest of Sherwood's fair, the Queen is formally crowned at the dance, there to reign over the rest of the proceedings. This year's candidates are Sara Prichard, Doris Becraft, Mary Louise Kirk, and Marcia Connelly.

Seated: Ed Russel, Sara Prichard, Mary Louise Kirk, Bill Mohri. Standing: Mike Witherspoon, Phyllis Oursler, Nancy Snyder, Arthur Shaw.

MR. AND MISS SHERWOOD CANDIDATES

Every year about Prom time, the Senior High votes to determine the most popular boy and girl in the Senior Class. These students have been chosen as being most representative of Sherwood's students. The winners of this coveted honor are announced at the Prom and given gifts as a token of appreciation.
